

Five Phases of Collaboration

Generate initial agreement around a problem and goal.

Solicit participation from key partners.

Develop collaboration operating procedures and roles.

Plan for shared activities.

Design a pilot or strategy.

Test, evaluate, and learn from pilot.

Continue to build the collaboration's membership, capacity and alignment.

Raise awareness about the piloted solution(s).

Inform and engage key stakeholders (community, public sector, business, philanthropy).

Revise strategy based on pilot(s) and expand.

Continue to build scale of activity and impact.

Build significant support from funders and partners.

Continue PR / communications to share successes and lessons learned.

Scale activities and impact to reach target population.

Impact systems through alignment of policies and resources.

Ensure long term viability.